Heer came up with the idea to The Baby Unicorn Manifesto as a reminder of the unlimited potential we each carry into this world at birth. The story is co-authored with Katarina Wallentin and the illustrations are done by Nathalie Beauvois. Together, they hope to inspire generations of baby unicorns by questioning what we believe is possible.

The Baby Unicorn idea was great, but the execution was lacking. The book has a number of punctuation and grammatical errors in it. I bought it as a baby shower gift for my niece, but I can't possibly give it with all those errors in it. If the book's errors are corrected, I would gladly repurchase one, as the overall message is wonderful.

dragon's unexpected arrival into the world and its journey of self-discovery to uncover its true purpose - to be itself, fire, flames and all! The Baby Dragon Manifesto is a fire-breathing sequel to authors Dr. Dain Heer and Katarina Wallentin's first children's book, The Baby Unicorn Manifesto. It is a perfect companion to their first book, continuing Heer and Wallentin's theme of magic and endless possibilities, with the help of an enchanting and colorful new being. Beautifully illustrated by Nathalie Beauvois, this imaginative story will encourage a new generation of children to awaken their inner baby dragons and soar to new heights, by embracing their uniqueness and unlimited potential.

Dr. Dain Heer and Katarina Wallentin comes the sequel to the popular Baby Unicorn and Baby Dragon Manifesto books: The Baby Stardust Manifesto! It is a beautiful exploration of the unique and bright magic of this planet, and within ourselves, we so often take for granted. Follow a tiny piece of baby stardust on its journey through the galaxies to become the magical blue place we call Earth. Join the joy, wonder, and discovery when life begins and hear the planet's request of all of us: Let the stardust in you come alive. Turn it on. Let it shine. Inspiring to read and exquisitely illustrated, The Baby Stardust Manifesto is the perfect bedtime story for curious children of our time. This story can also open up a soft space to talk about the balance of nature, climate change, and how everything is interrelated. The story is written by Dain Heer and Katarina Wallentin. The illustrations are done by Nathalie Beauvois. "We live on a truly magical planet, a piece of rock that beat all the odds and created life from stardust. In this book, we would like to give kids a sense of the wonder the Earth is, and invite them to marvel in our luck to live on this very rock in the whole wide universe." Katarina Wallentin, author of The Baby Stardust Manifesto "What if our greatest gift to the Earth is to come alive and let the joy in? Happiness is deeply transformative, and it inspires the generosity of spirit that makes us the care-takers of this planet that we are meant to be." Dain Heer, author of The Baby Stardust Manifesto

Heerben, amikor megszületett egyik barátjának a kislánya, hogy emlékeztessen a korlátlan potenciálra, amelyet születésünkkor mindannyian magunkkal hozunk erre a világra. A történet társszerzője Katarina Wallentin, az illusztrációkat pedig Nathalie Beauvois készítette. Mindannyian azt remélik, hogy bébi unikornisok generációit inspirálhatják arra, hogy jelezzék meg mindazt, amit a lehetőségeiknek hisznek. Mi lenne, ha a gyerekeknek születésük pillanatában elmondanák, hogy milyen hatalmas ajándékok? Hogy bármivé válhatnak és bármit tehetnek, amit csak akarnak? Mi lenne, ha naponta elmondanánk a gyerekeknek, hogy mennyire hálásak vagyunk a létezésükért? Mit tudnának akkor teremteni? Mi lenne akkor lehetséges?" - teszi fel a kérdést Heer. Wallentin

An empowerment manifesto for creatives, misfits, innovators, and disruptors from the star of So You Think You Can Dance and creator of Broadway's Finding Neverland A Unicorn in a World of Donkeys offers a playbook for living a creative and authentic life. Using her own story as a launching spot, and creative quizzes, charts, and lists to engage the reader in an interactive journey, Mia Michaels explores the experience of the unicorn in a world of donkeys, a world where fitting in, pleasing others, following rules, and maintaining norms-no matter how messed up those norms are-is the only acceptable path. She acknowledges the struggles of the unicorn life-loneliness, ridicule, being misunderstood and undervalued-and goes on encourage readers to reframe the unicorn life the way she has, as essential to a life of brilliance.

PERIOD founder and Harvard College student Nadya Okamoto offers a manifesto on menstruation and why we can no longer silence those who bleed—and how to engage in youth activism. Throughout history, periods have been hidden from the public. They're taboo. They're embarrassing. They're gross. And due to a crumbling or nonexistent national sex ed program, they are misunderstood. Because of these stigmas, a status quo has been established to exclude people who menstruate from the seat at the decision-making table, creating discriminations like the tampon tax, medicines that favor male biology, and more. Period Power aims to explain what menstruation is, shed light on the stigmas and resulting biases, and create a strategy to end the silence and prompt conversation about periods.

The Manual You Should Have Been Given When You Were Born is not like any other body book you've ever read. It's about functioning with your body from the perspective of beingness. It explores how you, as an infinite being, can experience greatness with your body. "What if your body were an ongoing source of joy? " This book may go against everything you've ever thought, everything you've been taught and everything you've read; and everything you have brought that everyone else believes. It doesn't claim to give you all the answers. Instead it will encourage you to ask the
