Despite being written mainly
in the third person, this book enables the

perceptive
reader to study
a dramatic part
of South Africa's history through
the experiences
of the main
protagonist.
Because of his
legal
background,
Daniel is able to see how an
initially fair

legal system is corrupted in order to serve the increasingly desperate needs of the White minority. This is a mere backdrop, however, to a love story that grows closer to tragedy as time passes because the heroine is an alcoholic.

The arrival of
the computer
alters the
career of the
hero
dramatically and
sends him on
some overseas
adventures to learn more about
the legal
implications of the new machine.

As a leader of a
missionary team
to Malawi, Daniel also gets
to grips with
people with a
totally different
background and a
differing worldview. The book is sensitive to

background and atmosphere, and the hero encapsulates some of this in a few poems that form part of the main text.

Jealousy, that green-eyed monster, also rears its head occasionally and further complicates relationships.

This book
disseminates
original
research on learning in and
from practice in
pre-service
teacher
education.

Authors such as Lederman and

describe the student teaching practicum (or work-integrated learning [WIL]), which is an essential component of pre-service teacher education, as the 'elephant in the room'. These authors note that 'the capstone

experience in
any teacher

education
programme is the student teaching
practicum...

[a]fter all,
this is where
the rubber hits
the road'.

However, many

educators will agree that this WIL component is sometimes very insufficient in assisting the student teacher to develop their own footing and voice as a teacher. This is the 'gap' that this research book addresses.

Most of the chapters in the book report empirical data, with the exception of two chapters that can be categorized as systematic reviews. WIL is addressed from various angles in the chapters.
